Alumni Fill Six Offices; Schlachtenhaufen To Lead

The Rev. Bruno Schlachtenhaufen, 1943 Wartburg graduate from Waterloo, was elected to a two-year term as president of the Wartburg College Alumni Association. Six other officers were chosen by the group, which balloted at Homecoming.

Newly elected vice president is Clarence Pries, 1940 grad, currently teaching at Cedar Falls Junior High School, Cedar Falls. Helen Sprenger, Waverly, was elected to fill the unexpired term as secretary. She is an elementary teacher at St. Paul's Parochial School.

Treasurer for the next two years is 1926 grad Ray Downing, vice president of the State Bank of Waverly. Harold Frey, 1955 graduate and public relations director of the Lutheran Children's Home, Waverly, was chosen member-at-large.

Two district representatives were elected for three-year terms. Barry Bomhoff, 1954 grad, from Salem, S. D., will represent the Dakota District. Minnesota District elected John Keller, 1945 graduate.

Organ, Phonograph In Danforth Chapel

An organ and phonograph, purchased with money donated by the Danforth Foundation, St. Louis, Mo., were installed in Danforth Chapel this fall.

Rules for use of the organ, which cost a thousand dollars, have not yet been established.

Students who wish to listen to sacred music while meditating may use the phonograph.

Chest Campaign Continues

Campus Chest solicitation, conducted on the theme "Learn to Give That Others May Live," will continue this week. The drive, which began Nov. 17, will end Wednesday.

"The purpose of the Chest is to have one organized drive instead of solicitations for individual charities," said senior Roger Buhr, Campus Chest chairman. "It's a good opportunity for Christian stewardship."

No set goal has been established for the campaign. Funds from the canvassing will go to Lutheran Children's Home in Waverly, Lutheran Student Action, American Heart Association, CARE, International Christian University of Japan, Student Senate Emergency Fund and Student Memorial Fund.

TRUMPET TO SKIP

Trumpet staff members will be turkey-bound for Thanksgiving vacation next Wednesday. Since only three days of classes are left, there will be no paper on Nov. 29.

Staff operations will be resumed with the Dec. 6 issue.

Aud. Bids Pending Church Approval

To Build Or Not?

Contracts for the proposed Wartburg chapel-auditorium have not been sold to the lowest bidder yet.

Final bids for the early-estimated $300,000 structure were received by the building committee on Wednesday, but lowest offers exceeded the "within reason" sanction of the American Lutheran Church.

At press time, members of the Board of Higher Education and the Executive Committee of the ALC are meeting in Chicago, Ill., to decide the outcome of Wednesday's bidding.

College president, C. H. Becker, expressed "confidence" that Wartburg would be given the green light by the Church conferees. Names of low bidders cannot be announced at this time.

Future Teachers Receive Blanks

Character reference blanks will be placed in the boxes of students who plan to teach next year. The blanks may be taken home during Thanksgiving vacation. This will enable students to obtain their references and return them Dec. 1.

Any student who plans to teach next year but does not receive this material should call at the registrar's office.

More will be distributed in December.

Put A Light On The Corner

Last week's issue of the TRUMPET started a safe-driving campaign here at Wartburg. The editorial in that issue advocated the placing of a stop light at the intersection in front of the College Hill Pharmacy. That editorial should not be taken lightly.

Have you ever tried to drive your car onto Bremer Avenue from the north at that intersection? If you have, you no doubt came to a stop at the stop sign and looked in both directions. But what did you see?

As you looked to the left you were greeted with the view of a semi-truck and two cars parked alongside the highway, completely obstructing your view of on-coming traffic. Slowly you drove your car farther onto the highway to see if anything was coming, only to have to back up quickly as a car whizzed by you at a speed way over the speed limit.

After a few minutes you became impatient and took a chance, and by mere luck you narrowly escaped being hit by a huge cattle truck looming down upon you. That time you made it, but what about the next time? What is going to happen when the streets become covered with snow or ice, or even worse, both snow and ice? Maybe you won't be so lucky.

Then, too, we have the pedestrian. He too must cross this highway to obtain whatever his needs may be from the College Hill Pharmacy. You, the student, have probably crossed this intersection many times. You were faced with the same problem as the driver trying to enter the highway.

Of course, no pedestrian has been hit and no accidents have happened there yet, but must we wait till something does happen before anything is done about it? Isn't it better to try to prevent accidents before they happen rather than after they happen?

Someone once said that if you are going to do something, the place to start is at home. As Wartburg students, Wartburg is our home, so let's start at home by taking action on campus to inform the city officials about this problem. With nearly four hundred cars on campus, and with the number increasing every year, this has become serious.

A signed petition by Wartburg students asking for a stop light at this intersection and presented to the city officials would be a big step toward solving this problem. Such a petition will be drawn up by members of the TRUMPET staff in the near future. When you are asked to sign this petition, think it over carefully. Your signature may be a great help in solving this serious problem.

What will YOUR part be during this safe-driving campaign? Just how long will YOUR luck last? —D. B.

Wartburg gets bowl offers! That's right down our alley. Everyone is on pins and needles waiting to see where the Knights would choose to strike.

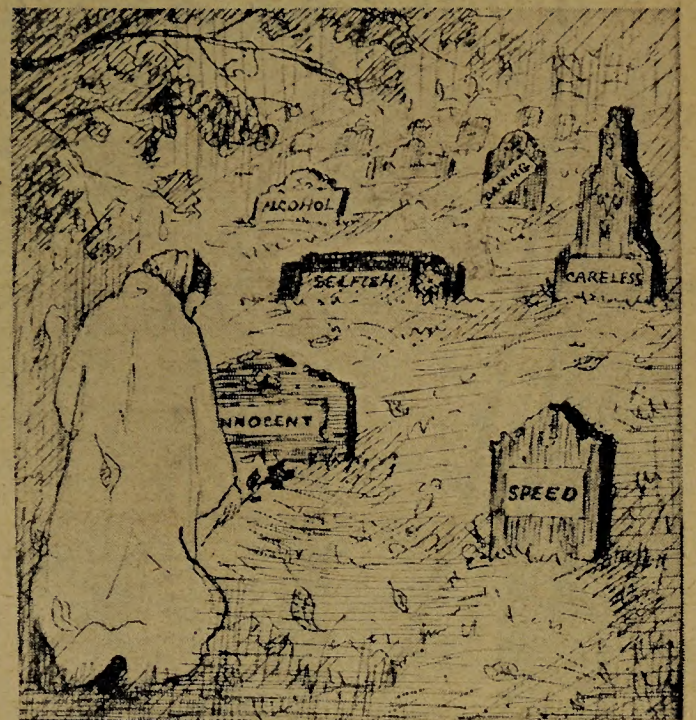

Weather Forecast for Wednesday, Nov. 26: SNOW for sure!

Now that the days are so short, some afternoon classes seem more like evening classes, and evening classes seem like gunner sessions.

"Blaze your trail," the teacher said.
"Don't always follow the mass."
But when he tried, the student found
A sign — "Keep off the grass."

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

Time Part Of Talents Used For God's Service

By Ray Ehrman

"Time is money" — so goes the familiar statement. This is the reason why Wartburg students can't get away from planning to use the time they have in the best possible way. When we speak of using talents given by God, we could use the word "time" in place of talents, because time is a part of every talent.

Talent used for God is time used for God. The parables in the New Testament about talents, or duties, given by the Master to His servants before he left on His eternal way, all deal with time because it is an element ever present in talents. They tell three things about talents which bear mentioning.

The first is that these talents must be taken seriously. The man who buried his talent in the ground became a victim of insincerity, which made him fearless before his Master, as shown by the misuse of the talent.

The second thing is that time is allowed so that the servant can decide how the talent will be used from the time the Master leaves until He returns.

The third and final phase is that the Master always seems to judge the servant on the basis of how the talent was used or the amount of the return, which is not a bad way to judge. A coach is often said to be a good or a bad coach on the basis of his win-lost record.

A top business executive may be promoted or forced to leave his position on the basis of how good business was during the time he held a position of leadership. If people only had enough sense to judge "the fruit to know the tree," they might understand the justice of talents.

These parables of the talents in various forms all say, "A talent well used is a talent used for God." Simpler to say, "Time well used is time used for God."

To All Campus
Publicity Chairmen:

(Wherever you are hiding)
In September the sound went out from the Trumpet to all of you, requesting your help in notifying us of your organizational news. A special column was set up, primarily for your benefit. We haven't heard from you since — are you there?

There are many students on campus who would be interested in your organizations if they were informed. We'll take half of the blame for their condition, but we're tired of shouldering it all.

Here's a chance for you to prove to your colleagues that you're not just a joiner: Place the date and time of your meeting on the school calendar at the Public Relations Office. Call information about your meetings into the Trumpet Office (Ext. 301) or drop a line to The Trio, Box 103 at the Post Office in the Student Union.

If you want to be really friendly, bring your message to the Publications House. The girls have an envelope hanging in the hallway just waiting for you. If you want to venture inside, messages can be left on the editor's desk.

The college is growing — new organizations are starting every day. If your organization is lacking attention, you'd better help publicize it. We're not neglecting you, but it's easy to play favorites with those who do bother to keep us posted on activities. Why not join the club?

Sincerely,
Ed Schaley, Editor

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

After asking a number of football players why the team was so successful this year, we came to the conclusion that the battle cry was as important as anything else in insuring success. Whenever spirits were running low in the Knights' camp, someone would break out of the huddle screaming "Yaaaga, yaaaga!" Naturally, we wondered what it meant, and we were told that, literally translated, it means, "It's the second half; we better score."

First thoughts rushed us to the typewriter to pound out a detailed description of the weekend celebration. However, after the first line, the typewriter was already on fire, so let it suffice to say that all celebrated in a lively, rather costly fashion.

Several weeks ago this column carried an item on the B.M.O.C.'s. We report now that the B.M.O.C.'s have had the course and are now dissolving.

Welcome home, choir people! Your return to the campus was quickly noticed by regular chapel goers. Once again the hymns in chapel are being sung in tune. Incidentally, some of you, we discovered that collection isn't taken in chapel, so you can start attending any time now.

Talk about efficiency — we cut convo last Thursday at 10, and at 11 an Oppie card was in our mailbox. It is consoling to us, however, to know that we were only one of many to be hit by the current swing of the axe.

Week's Best Quote: "Wartburg won; I celebrated; did you want to see me, Mr. Oppermann?"

For what it's worth: Fashion designers report that the trend in women's clothing is away from the chemise and toward a shorter hemline. Good idea; we thought they had "bagged" their limit a long time ago.

In order next weekend is a turkey dinner, a family visit and late sleeping.

Drive slow, have a good time and we'll see you Dec. 1 in the library gunning on a term paper due Dec. 2.

Good Knight-living To All!

Mission Talk

By Kriesel, Munter
And Schroeder

Missions in New Guinea are not all related to Lutheran bodies. There are, in all, 27 separate mission fields of these related churches: ALC (joint program), ELC and Missouri Synod.

Other main missions in relation to strength are the Catholic, Methodist and Baptist. After these come several smaller missions related to sects as Jehovah's Witnesses, Swiss Brethren and one or two independent groups as the Unevangelized Field Missions.

All of these groups are assisted in their work by the MAF — Mission Aviation Fellowship — and the two Bible societies — London Bible Society and Lutheran Bible Institute, which translates and prints the Bible in the various dialects and languages of the nations.

The American Lutheran Church establishes as many as thirty new mission congregations per year in America. A package mission, as many of these are, now costs nearly eighty thousand dollars.

This money is used to build a church and parsonage. Part of this is a gift, and part of it is a loan to be paid back within a certain amount of time. The hope is that when a mission church is started, it will be self-supporting in five years.

Knight Drivers Not Always Harmless

By Linda Mugridge

He was driving from Wartburg to Illinois, and he was extremely tired. He went to sleep. The car rolled over . . . and over . . . and over. Thus in 1950 a Wartburg student died.

They were riding a motorcycle, and they couldn't make a curve. A car rounding the same curve sheared off their right legs. One of them had been an outstanding guard on the 1949 Wartburg football team.

He was returning to Wartburg from Oelwein (his girl lived there), and he hit the interurban running between Waverly and Waterloo. He was in the hospital a long time. When finally released, he quit school. He couldn't make up all the work he had missed.

"Yet we always feel it can't happen to us," said Dean of Students Earnest Oppermann.

Oppermann has been in charge of Wartburg's automobile administration since he joined the faculty in 1948. His experience with cars at Wartburg dates back to his student days in 1935, however. At that time he was one of three automobile owners on the newly merged campus.

As the ratio between students and cars changed from 40-1 in 1935 to 3-1 in 1958, an automobile policy gradually evolved. Wartburg's present system of regulations is based largely on a college survey taken by the Kemper Insurance Company, New York, in 1952.

Thirty-nine schools of the 700 interviewed by the company refuse to grant the driving privilege to students. Many others strictly limit it. For example, freshmen and even sophomores on some campuses are not allowed to have autos.

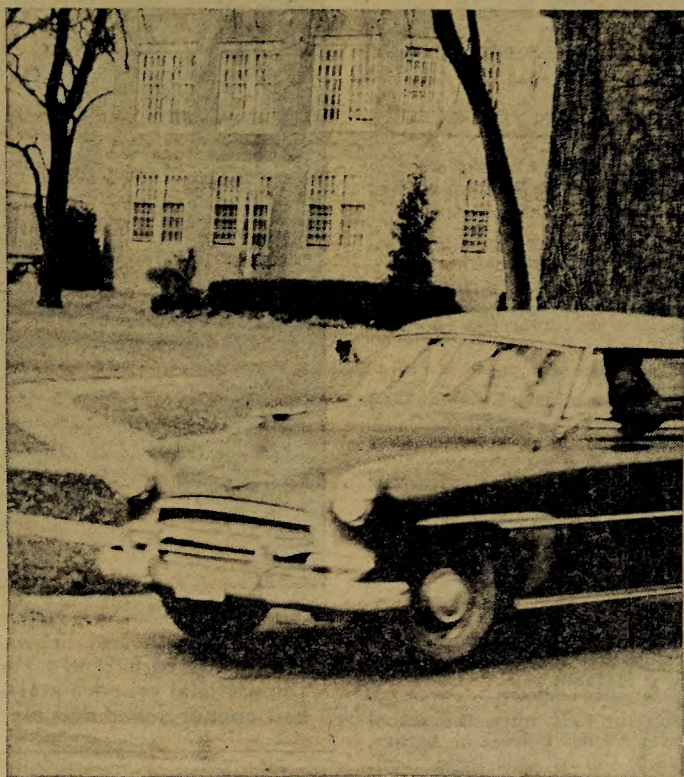

That all Iowa automobile laws be obeyed is the backbone of Wartburg's policy. Campus safety is also bulwarked by such natural obstacles as the dip in the road by the Little Theater — a dip which Oppermann calls the best safety device on campus.

"But the greatest precautionary aid in our driving is the students' knowledge of what's right and wrong," Oppermann stated.

He listed speeding down area side streets, which teem with children, as a major student offense. Also mentioned was the automotive show-off, a common creature in any campus-zoo.

"The attitude that it can't happen to us, driving too far by one driver and excessive speed are what have caused most of our accidents," said Oppermann.

The student was driving from Wartburg to Illinois, and he was extremely tired . . .

SLOWING DOWN for the dip in the road behind the Little Theater is sophomore Kurt Kennedy of Topinabee, Mich.

Knowledge, Anyone?

STUDENTS COME TO TERMS IN LIBRARY

By Rog Schneider

Miss Perna Lohn, Wartburg head librarian, recently indicated it must be term paper season as the average population of the library has been rocketing toward an all-time high.

However, there is still a lot of books waiting for action, and the library welcomes all students who would care to make use of its vast supply of knowledge.

Need Help? See Librarian

"I like to have students ask for help," stated Miss Lohn. "Helping students find materials is part of the librarian's service. I should and do know, from the training I received, where there are more aids for students."

The library contains many useful assets for the student in the midst of term papers. The card catalogue, magazine indexes, New York Times Index and various reference books, such as encyclopedias, handbooks and concordances are all extremely valuable to the information-seeking student.

For Music It's Grove's

The World Almanac, Van Nostrand Scientific Encyclopedia, Lincoln Library and Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians are just a few of the basic reference books in the lineup of available educational material.

Miss Lohn pointed out that magazines contain a vast amount of pertinent recent material on current events and are definitely overlooked as good sources of information. The Reader's Guide and the New York Times Index can be definitely helpful in making a selection.

Reserve Books Troublesome

"I feel terribly bad when a student cannot get a reading assignment done in a book from the reserve shelf because he waited until the last minute to start his assignment," stated Miss Lohn. "If everyone would attempt to get an early start for the reserve books, probably there would be ample time to get the reading accomplished."

It has been found that the library has many uses. It can be valuable as a quiet place to rest, a place to write notes to your friend of the opposite sex, and occasionally, if you aren't careful, you may acquire a little extra knowledge.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

With the advent of inclement weather, we are going to pick out the remaining gridiron splinters and remove our posterior from the exterior into the interior.

There are many, many football splinters left over from this season to stimulate any Wartburger, no matter how numb he was to this sport in the past.

Splinter number one of course is the winning of the Iowa Conference championship. Second splinter is Wartburg's first undefeated team in history. Splinter No. 3 — Coach Norm Johansen's Knights broke 15 school records over the course of this colorful season.

Last splinter to cause sensation was a "feeler" for a bowl bid, coming from Mineral Bowl officials at Excelsior Springs, Mo. The Knights were among four other teams being considered to play powerful Western Illinois.

Wartburg withdrew from the running, since the offer was just received Monday night, and the Mineral Bowl game is being played today. Also the Knights would have had to adapt to NCAA rules for the game, while they have used NAIA standards in the Iowa Conference this season.

While working on a feature story about football at Wartburg, we discovered some very interesting and misconceived facts. For instance, the championship this season is not the first one in the history of Wartburg football.

Drs. Hertel and Chellebold remind us that Wartburg tied for the Tri-State Conference championship in 1934 when the school was at Clinton. The deadlock came with Aurora College at Aurora, Ill., according to Dr. Hertel, who was in the Athletic Department at that time.

And contrary to the stories that set the beginning of football at Wartburg in 1923, we discovered that the sport actually had its origin a year prior to that date, 1922, when the locals played a three-game schedule.

First opponent for Wartburg, known in those days as the Spartans, was Greene High School. (That's right, Chuck Nichol, your alma mater.) Wartburg lost its first contest 20-0 and the other two games also in their infant season.

In 1923 only 10 spectators watched Wartburg win its first football game in history over WATERLOO JUNIOR HIGH, 40-0. The Spartans dropped their other five contests that season.

Iowa State Teachers College was an opponent of Wartburg in 1924. The Tutors polished off our Spartans in fine fashion and paved the way for three more Wartburg losses on the '24 card.

Wartburg changed from a Normal School to an Academy at about this time. Nevertheless, the Spartans were unable to score in five games in 1925. Football was then dropped from competitive sports at Wartburg in '26 and '27.

In 1928 pigskin enthusiasm rebounded and found its way back into the athletic program. The first Homecoming game we can find on record was played this season, as the Spartans squeezed Britt 6-0, scoring for their second time in the 19 contests played since the sport originated.

The year 1929 found the Spartans winning one contest and dropping four. Wartburg first played Luther in this year and lost 14-0 to the Norse. An eight-game slate was played in '30 with the Spartans tying one and winning one, being outscored 170-7 in their other six losses.

Want to guess who was athletic director at Wartburg over most of this past period? It was none other than Dr. A. W. Swensen of the present Chemistry Department. Swensen admitted that football records were nothing to be proud of in the '20's, but pointed out that two Spartan basketball teams were undefeated during his tenure. These were the '28 and '29 squads which played something like 28-0 over two seasons.

In '31 the college moved to Clinton, and athletic teams became known as the Wartburg Teutons, but the new name didn't help, as the gridders still were 0-4.

In '32 one L. H. (Cec) Johnson averaged over 43 yards punting for the season and rambled over 300 yards on the ground in a 26-6 win over Milton College of Wisconsin.

Wartburg then took the share of the conference in '34 and moved back to Waverly in '35, where modern records begin.

So we'll let football fade into the past for this season, but before we leave fall sports, we first want to say congratulations to the cross-country team for winning its first meet in modern history over Simpson College last Saturday.

We say modern history, since we also discovered that Wartburg had cross country in its curriculum in 1921, along with baseball. No records were given, although there was evidence that meets were run against outside competition.

To the indoors now, as the Knights are getting ready for their season opener against Winona State Teachers, Dec. 2. We have no information on the Winona team this year, but remember that it defeated Wartburg 76-61 in Minnesota last season.

Preliminary to the Winona-Wartburg contest will be the annual Wartburg Freshman-Wartburg Seminary clash. Frosh coach Bob Campbell has about twenty boys on his roster and is rather optimistic about the approaching season.

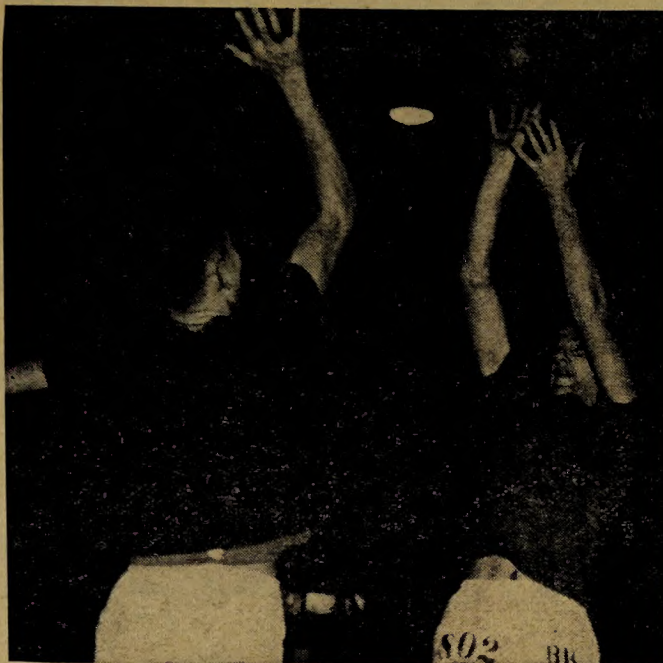

Word from publicity agent Charlie Maahs has it that the sem team is loaded with versatile talent. Bill Adix is back from internship and reportedly hooking better than ever.

Mel "My fault, gang" Frahm, Knight mainstay the past three years, gives the seminarians a lot of extra punch. And Arnie Deguisne, with a master's degree in psychology, should come in handy.

Runners Win First Outing On Last Try

Wartburg thinclads finally broke into winning ways Saturday at Indianola as they scored a 15 to 40 decision over Simpson. The meet was a forfeit because Simpson couldn't field the required number of runners, and so the first five places went to Wartburg.

Gary Moody, junior from Cheboygan, Mich., raced across the finish line with first place honors as he ran the 1.9-mile course in 9 mins. and 5 secs. Keith Acheson of Simpson edged out Bob Boettcher, sophomore from Appleton, Wis., and Don Dietzler, freshman from Wausau, Wis., for second-place honors. Boettcher and Dietzler followed in the same order.

Moody

According to Coach Bob Campbell, it was a close race all the way. Moody, Boettcher and Dietzler set the pace for the entire race only to have Acheson sprint past Boettcher and Dietzler at the finish.

This was the last cross-country meet this year. Prospects for next year look good, as all runners were underclassmen.

Arjes

Trumpet's final lineman of the week voting ended in a tie.

Jim Arjes, Waverly, and John Hugo, Mason City, both juniors, each collected three votes for their outstanding play in Wartburg's title-winning game at Simpson last Saturday.

Arjes has been the defensive quarterback all season. This was his first selection, although he received several votes for other performances.

Hugo

Hugo was named three times this season, to top all other Knights for lineman honors. John also won the tackling contest for the season, edging Don Sowers for the most tackles this year and winning a steak dinner.

Unbeaten Knights Rewrite Records, Post Best Season

By Steve Van Guilder
Only undefeated team in the state of Iowa — that's Wartburg after its final conference victory over Simpson College at Indianola.

Setting 15 school records during the season, the Knights increased their 7-6 halftime margin over Simpson to 34-12 to clinch Wartburg's first Iowa Conference title in history.

Moving Van Goes 66

Tom Van Wyngarden opened the second half attack for the Knights with a 66-yard scoring run on the first scrimmage play. Marv Ott directed the third Wartburg drive, which proved to be the winning marker, from the Knights' 15-yard line. Ott went the final four yards to bring the score up to 20-6.

Early in the fourth period, Ott connected on a pass with end Darwin Fritz to begin a 51-yard scoring play. Fritz took the ball on the Simpson 35 and went the rest of the way to score.

Wartburg's last TD came with five minutes left to play when Simpson fumbled deep in its own territory. On a fourth down play, LeRoy Boseneiler passed to Bob Niemann for the score. Dennis Krominga converted for four points.

With an eight-game winning streak, after tying with Luther College 6-6 in the opening game of the season, the 1958 Knights slashed 15 school records.

Campus Pawnners Staging Intercollegiate Match Today

By Bill Goetz

Looking forward to the Midwest Regional Intercollegiate Team Tournament, to be held at Waterloo during Thanksgiving vacation, the Wartburg Chess Club will play this afternoon what is probably the first intercollegiate chess match in Wartburg history.

At 1 p.m. today, teams from Wartburg College and Wisconsin State College Chess Clubs face each other in the small dining room in the Student Union, with the match scheduled to run until 6 p.m. Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Last week, the college team played the group from the Cedar Valley Chess Club of Waterloo, one of the strongest clubs in Iowa. With the outcome still hanging in the balance after three of the four games were completed, with a win for each side and a draw, Wartburg lost the remaining game, and with it the match, the score being 2½ to 1½.

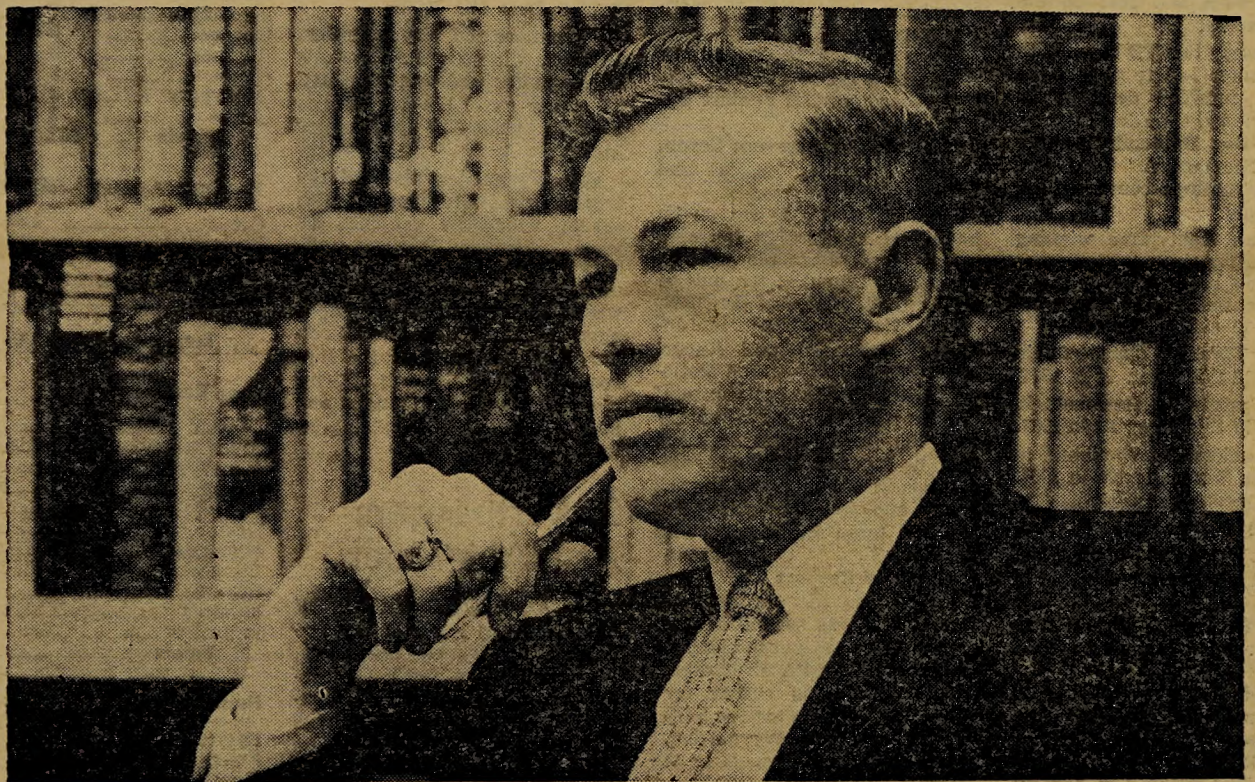

In the contest between the strongest players of each club at first board, Larry Bielenberg, Wartburg sophomore, upset O. J. Donath of Cedar Falls, top-ranked player in northeast Iowa, for Wartburg's only win in the four individual games.

Jerry Folkers, junior, lost to Fritz Donath of Cedar Valley at second board, while at third board Bill Goetz, freshman, gained Wartburg's remaining half-point by drawing with Roger Holler, second-ranked high-school chess player in Iowa.

Ed Zaiser, sophomore, lost to Cedar Valley's fourth board player, Vaylord Smith, in the remaining contest. A return match will be held in Waterloo during December.

November 28, 29 and 30 are the dates set for the Midwest Intercollegiate Regional Team Tournament at Waterloo, to be held under the co-sponsorship of the Wartburg Chess Club and the Cedar Valley Chess Club, with games to be played at the Waterloo Y.M.C.A.

Winner of this tournament will qualify for the National Intercollegiate Team Championship Tournament, to be held at the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 27-30.

"What will it cost me to wait and buy insurance later?"

Young people getting ready to take on new responsibilities often wonder if they can afford to postpone buying life insurance.

No one can say what the delay might cost if you died, but here's an example of what happens to premiums as you get older... based on our most popular policy, the Brotherhood Provider for $10,000:

Age	Premium		For each dollar paid in you get back at 65*	Monthly income at age 65* (Male)
	Annual	Monthly
20	$156.90	$14.10	$1.74	$77.20
25	180.20	16.20	1.56	70.90
30	209.30	18.80	1.40	64.60
35	245.80	22.10	1.24	57.40

Note that during the ten years from age 25 to age 35, the annual premium increases by $65.60, or 36%. And the amount you get back for each dollar invested decreases by 32¢, or 20%.

Now, the Brotherhood Provider is an outstanding value, no matter when it is purchased. And the net cost is even lower than the premiums suggest, because of Lutheran Brotherhood's substantial dividends.

But these figures do emphasize the advantages of buying insurance as early as possible. Why not start your own insurance program now, before your premiums go up? Give interest a chance to work for you. See your Lutheran Brotherhood representative, or write the home office.

Lady's In Waiting!

PRESIDENTIAL POOCH KEEPS POST

By Grace Jahn

"She's only a dog," said Pres. C. H. Becker when questioned about the "canis familiaris" often seen under his car by a great many Wartburg students as they hurry to their classes.

Taffy, as she is known in the Becker household, is not only a dog, but one-man dog; for this reason the canine seeks the protective shelter of the president's auto whenever she isn't tied.

Taffy Is Twelve

The 12-year-old, taffy-colored cocker spaniel came to the Beckers just 10 years ago as a gift to their daughter Kathy via one Orla Richard Nutter, a former Wartburg student and now a dentist in Rugby, N.D., and married to President Becker's niece. Knowing he couldn't keep his pet at school, Nutter devised this method whereby he might get to see her often while at Wartburg.

Having unsuccessfully tried to break Taffy of her habit of following the family car, the Beckers have given up. Taffy doesn't give up quite so easily, however, and, like "Mary's Little Lamb," she has been known to follow the familiar blue and white auto to church and even all the way downtown.

Weather Doesn't Faze Her

Weather makes no difference to the dog either.

"Whether it rains or snows or whatever it does, Taffy is always there," related President Becker.

Taffy herself is so preoccupied with her devotion to Dr. Becker that she has time for little else besides running after the car, eating, sleeping and making friends with all the rabbits in the president's garden.

Being thoroughly acquainted in her adopted household, Taffy knows just whom to go to for a haircut (Dr. Becker), for food (Mrs. Becker) and for admiration and protection (Kathy).

Dog-Lovers, Take Care!

A trait in Taffy's one-man-dog character that has the Beckers worried is her inability to make friends easily, as one Wartburg student soon discovered when he came away with slightly torn trousers after stopping to pet her.

Taffy may be only a dog, but as far as loyalty is concerned, she's a charter member of the Wartburg Family.

"MY NAME is Taffy, and why you want to take my picture I'll never know, but go ahead."

This Was A Car!

SCANT MINUTES before this picture was taken, a man drove to his death on an Iowa highway. Be glad, this was not you — play it safe, it could be.

Lohn Elected To Head 3-Synod Librarians

Miss Perna Lohn, college librarian, was elected chairman of a three-synod librarians group for next year at a meeting held at Lutheran Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., recently.

Members from the American Lutheran Church, Evangelical Lutheran Church and United Lutheran Church attended the meeting with 10 colleges and seminaries represented.

Discussion centered around church archival material, location of a central list of publications and other library problems.

Tillmanns Writes Magazine Article

The Rev. Walter Tillmanns, of Wartburg's Modern Languages Department, has written an article entitled "Languages and the Lutheran Church," which will appear soon in the Lutheran Herald.

The article will deal with degree of interest in foreign languages here in America.

Co-ordinators Allow Inter-Dorm Parties

Sponsorship of parties between men's and women's dorms was given the green light by the Women's Coordinating Board at its meeting recently.

To promote parties on a smaller scale is the aim of the move, according to junior Shirley Campbell, WCB secretary-treasurer. Under this plan one or two floors of one dorm will host get-togethers for a corresponding number of floors from another dorm.

Wartburg Chorus Goes On Record With 'Favorites'

Latest waxing of the Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, is a 33 1-3 RPM, entitled "A Record of Favorites," recorded this fall and now available at the music office.

This recording, manufactured by Columbia Record Co., includes "Now Thank We All Our God," arranged by Pachelbel; "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," arranged by Dr. Liemohn; and "Built on the Rock," arranged by F. M. Christiansen.

Copies of the disc may be ordered from Wartburg Choir Records, Waverly, for four dollars postpaid, or may be purchased directly from the music office in the Fine Arts Building for $3.85.

Laughter Abounds In The Round In Campus Play Of 'Charley's Aunt'

By Ed Schaley

Confusion and boundless energy led to laughter in a Wartburg student production of "Charley's Aunt," three-act comedy by Brandon Thomas, presented Thursday evening in the college Little Theatre. Final presentation of this "often played," "seldom worn" production is tonight, starting at 8.

Sponsored by the Speech Department and directed by Vernon Lestrud, the play is being done in-the-round without benefit of the usual stage drops and formal blocking. Director Lestrud, though hemmed in by a vast amount of props, thrilled the audience with his eager portrayal of the dual role of Lord Fancourt Babberly, impersonator of Charley's Aunt.

Plot Has Butler

Taking the characters as they appear, senior Dick Ferries lends an air of disgruntled servility to the atmosphere of Jack Chesney's college rooms with his peanuts-paid job as Brassett, the butler.

Col. Sir Francis Chesney, portrayed by newcomer Don Ehlers, freshman, is a military do-nothing, imperialistic failure, back from foreign lands to pay a timely visit to his student son, Jack Chesney, played by sophomore Bruce Bergquist. Both Ehlers and Bergquist showed promise in their rather talkative roles.

Boettcher Becomes Charley

Keeping a consistent character throughout his romantic ordeals with the father-complexed Amy Spettigue, sophomore Bob Boettcher constantly drew light laughter from the audience with his bashful attempts to see Amy alone. Young Chesney has similar troubles explaining his aspirations to charming Kitty Verdun, portrayed by senior veteran Joan Pape.

"AH-AH, don't hit your Auntie, Charley!" Charley, far right, played by sophomore Bob Boettcher, has trouble restraining himself from "aunt-war-fare" in Little Theatre action of "Charley's Aunt."

Directing and playing on the inside track, Lestrud brought the character of Babberly (or the Aunt) to life without overshadowing the other actors. Minus the bubbling antics of Lestrud, the Aunt, the comedy would have been only mildly amusing. With Babberly bouncing to and fro, the outcome of the entire three acts is uproarious.

Spettigues Are Proper

Amy Spettigue was portrayed by sophomore June Marolf, who does a fair job of remaining neutrally sweet. She is a victim of Victorian domination by an irate father, Stephen Spettigue, ably handled by sophomore Bob Rosenberg. Rosenberg manages to be funny and dignified at the same time, a notable feat.

The real aunt shows up in the person of sophomore Jacqueline Lindau. She manages to renew old affections for Sir Chesney in the midst of an interwoven plot which further involves her traveling companion and ward, Ela Delahay, pictured prettily by senior Betty Meyer.

Women Seem Neutral

Though the feminine characters seem slightly neutral throughout the play, it is probably only a reflection of the period. The entire effect only makes the character of Babberly impersonating the Aunt funnier. Miss Meyer creates a striking companion for the finally victorious Babberly.

Laurels for support should go to the crews and managers for their efficient handling of heavy costuming and make-up and a plush amount of prop changes.

Tripping With The Trio

The knighties of the round table are talking turkey this week. By parliamentary procedure we have taken a vote and decided we need help from you in writing our column. Every week we search our envelope only to find the same dead spiders. Mrs. Garland, don't point that revolver at us! We put in all the material there is to work with!

The outstanding event of the weekend, the Vienna Academy Chorus, will present its program Sunday, Nov. 23, at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium. The reviews that we have read promise an evening worth your while.

HMTL, that is, Dick Chellevold, Hard Man To Locate: We tried to find out your program for your next meeting but couldn't reach you. All we know is that the Science Club is meeting Nov. 25, at 7:30 p.m.

People with money problems, attention! Mr. L. B. Hicks, vice president of the First National Bank of Waverly, will speak on "Opportunities in Banking and Functions of the Bank," at BSA meeting in Wartburg Hall Lounge, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m.

World Affairs is having as feature speaker, world traveler, Jack Reents. He will speak on the Government of New Guinea. The following is a sneak preview: The Government of New Guinea is controlled by the United Nations through the Australian government. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 3, in Wartburg Hall Lounge.

Thanksgiving vacation officially begins at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 26. A notice to all freshmen: Don't panic if you find notices disputing this fact in your mailboxes on Wednesday morning. Around here you either have to look for a signature or hire a private detective.

There was a fairly large turn-out last Thursday morning for the brief but entertaining Grossmann Vigilante presentation of "The 'Hose' Hangs High."

To all students who can read: Notice the "hidden-in-the-bush" sign which reads "Keep off the grass." Don't cut campus while Oppie is still gazing out of his window. "Wait till the sun dies, Nellie."

Wherever you are Thanksgiving, or whatever you are doing, don't forget the wonderful things you have left behind. GOBBLE! GOBBLE! GOBBLE!
